Used to Increase
Legislative Pensions?

Any likelihood of the people of Arkansas accepting an increase in taxes had two strikes against it when a bill appeared in the Senate proposing members of the General Assembly be granted retirement pay at 2½ times their annual salary.

Apparently the legislators are prepared to spell out a "state financial crisis" in terms of personal finance.

The assumption that the state needs higher taxes will be scoffed at when the people learn that—at least in part—this is nothing but propaganda triggered by a personal money grab.

Your editor has usually endorsed higher salaries for public officials, holding that citizens have no right to ask for a government any better than the one they are paying for. But an outrageous hike in retirement pay borders on legislative fraud.

I haven't forgotten that a recent General Assembly approved a bill to give the Arkansas County Judges Association a subsidy from taxes in order to maintain a lobby to pressure the legislature into giving the counties more turnback money than they now get.

Eventually I expect to work for either a repealer of this farce or a court test.

How do you square the federal ruling that you can't deduct from income tax returns any money spent "to influence legislation" with Arkansas financing a levy to lobby for special-interest appropriations?

Senate Wants to Raise Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill pending in the Arkansas Senate would permit elected state constitutional officers to retire at their full annual salaries and would allow legislators to retire at more than 2½ times their annual salaries.

The salaries would be the minimum retirement benefits under Senate Bill 87, which was introduced Jan. 18 Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs is handling the bill.

Currently, legislators who become eligible for retirement benefits can receive annuities of at least their annual salary rate which is $1,200 a year.

Under SB 87, legislators could retire at "not less than" their annual salaries plus 62 per cent. The measure also would liberalize the requirements for legislators to receive the benefits.

Under existing law, retired constitutional officers are entitled to the same retirement benefits payable to other retired state employees with similar salaries. The retirement benefit contributions from the employees and the state would not be enough to pay the higher annuities available to legislators under the bill and the measure specifies that the difference is to be made up from general revenues.

National Debt
$2,000 Person

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the federal debt in fiscal 1972 were divided equally among Americans, it would mean each would owe more than $2,000.

The estimated debt under President Nixon's proposed $229.2 billion budget sent to Congress today totals $429.4 billion.

By dividing the latest population estimate of 206,433,000 into the estimated debt in fiscal 1972, the per capita debt is $2,080.

Bumpers Has Setback on Consumer Bill

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Dale Bumpers suffered a temporary setback Thursday when the Arkansas House declined to consider his consumer protection legislation until next week.

The bill was brought up for a vote Thursday, but consideration was postponed until next Wednesday after Rep. Boyce Alford of Pine Bluff threatened to filibuster against it for the one hour allotted him.

In the Senate, five amendments were attached to Bumpers' measure for governmental reorganization, with the governor's approval, and possibly set the stage for a vote on the bill today.

Alford, speaking against the consumer protection bill, said Arkansas had a "wonderful" governor and attorney general but added, "I think the honeymoon has just about ended right now."

The bill, which has the backing of Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr., would create a consumer protection division in the attorney general's office.

A lawyer who would head the division would represent the state and its subdivisions, the business community and the public in investigating and taking action on consumer complaints. The division would serve as a clearing house for such complaints.

The most significant change made in the Senate in the reorganization bill was an amendment by Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway to dilute an amendment Jones earlier had succeeded in writing into the bill.

The original amendment maintained Senate authority to confirm any gubernatorial appointee or its successor position under the reorganized government if the Senate now held confirmation power over the position.

The House voted 87-0 in favor of a bill by Rep. Bernice Kizer of Fort Smith that would repeal the law that permits women to be sent to the state penitentiary for habitual intoxication.

The House defeated on a vote of 24-31 a bill by Rep. Wayne Courtney of Forrest City that would limit the number of retail liquor outlets in a county.

Legislators Quick to Draw Expense Money in
One Form or Another

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Eighty-six of the 100 members of the Arkansas House filed last week for a special weekly expense allowance of up to $140 authorized under the House appropriation bill.

The representatives availed themselves of the funds under new procedures requiring them to submit vouchers for it and to draw it under their own names.

The procedures were established because of the controversial practice in the past in which legislators took the money under the names of relatives or other persons who were listed as House employees but who actually did no work.

All but Sens. Robert Harvey of Swift and Joe Ford of Little Rock in the 35-member Senate have drawn the $1,800 contingency money the senators take in a lump sum for expenses they incur in the session. The allowance for the senators this year is $600 more than they got in the 1969 session.

The House members are entitled to receive a maximum of $140 a week for expenses during the 60-day session, in addition to their biennial salary of $2,400 and per diem expenses during the regular legislative session totaling $1,200.

Census Report Shows
Hempstead Population
Dropped 1.8 Per Cent

Hempstead County's official population in the 1970 census was 19,308, down 1.8 percent from the 1960 figure of 19,661, the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce reports.

The official population of the state was 1,923,295, up 7.7 percent from the 1960 population count, which was 1,786,272.

The 1970 census counted 12,862 white persons in Hempstead County, 66.6 percent of the total; 6,393 Negroes, and 53 persons of other races. In 1960, 62.7 percent of the population was white.

The census showed 1,483 children under 5 years; 4,792 in ages 5 through 17; 9,888 people 18 through 64; and 3,145 who were 65 and older. The population 14 years and over included 9,521 married people, 1,789 who were widowed, 408 divorced, and 2,585 never married.

Hempstead County's 1970 population was classified as 45.6

percent urban, and 54.4 percent rural.

There were 6,484 households, with 19,101 persons, including 1,222 one-person households. In addition 207 persons were living in group quarters.

The 1970 census counted 7,122 housing units in Hempstead County, 4,697 of them occupied by owners, 1,787 occupied by tenants, and 638 vacant. These included vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 was 66.0 percent, compared with 61.5 percent in 1960.

Among year-round dwelling units there were 6,453 single family houses, 488 housing units in Multi-Unit Buildings, and 167 Mobile Homes or Trailers. The percentage of occupied units with more than one person per room was 9.7, compared with 14.2 in 1960. Of all the occupied housing units, 4,904 had piped water, toilet, and bath, while 1,580 lacked some or all plumbing.

The median value of owner-occupied houses in Hempstead County was $7,500, compared with less than $5,000 in 1960. The median rent paid by tenants in 1970 was less than $30 per month, compared with $32 in 1960. Half were over and half below the median figures.

These results are from two 1970 census advance reports for the state: PC(V2), general population characteristics, and HC(V1), general housing characteristics. The reports, which contain additional 1970 census data for the state and various areas within it, may be purchased at nominal prices from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, or from offices of the U.S. Department of Commerce in major cities.

Further reports giving more extensive statistics on the characteristics of the population and housing will be published in future months as the 1970 census results are tabulated.

7 Children
Perish in House Fire

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP)—Seven children died Thursday night when fire swept through their five-room frame home in this southeast Arkansas town.

Police said the victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Woods who were visiting a neighbor about a block away when the fire occurred.

"It undoubtedly started from an overheated wood stove," said Fire Chief Morris Parker. "It was pretty chilly and the children apparently filled the stove with wood and went to bed."

Parker said four of the children were found on the floor and the other three were in bed.

Authorities identified the children as Daisy May, 12, Mary Anne, 11, Juanita, 10, Flora, 9, Dorothy B. Grant Jr., 5 and Carolyn, 4.

Parker said a neighbor of the Woods' turned in the alarm about 11:05 p.m.

"I took the alarm," Parker said. "He told me the flames were already coming out the window. They (the children) had no chance whatsoever. They were undoubtedly dead before the alarm was turned in."

Bitter Cold
Still Grips
Part of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bitter cold persisted today in wide areas of the Northeast, where electric power shortages posed an added woe to residents digging out of a major snowstorm.

Temperatures slid near zero or below overnight through most of New York and New England. Moderate to heavy snow fell again in isolated sections of the eastern Great Lakes.

Heavy demands for electricity and numerous equipment failures Thursday forced the New York State Public Service Commission to order a 5 per cent voltage reduction to conserve generating capacity for peak periods.

A New England utilities spokesman reported seven major generating units out of service Thursday in Massachusetts and Connecticut. The loss represented nearly one-sixth of total capacity.

The power situation returned to normal in New England by nightfall, and a utilities spokesman said voltage reductions were not expected today "unless additional equipment failures occur."

Powerful winds that had produced blizzard conditions from northwestern Pennsylvania through western and central New York died down and most schools and roads were reopened.

There were exceptions, however. Fourteen inches of snow fell outside Oswego, in north-central New York, atop 12 inches that came Wednesday.

Bitter cold and high winds in northern New England hampered the search for four New Jersey climbers missing since Tuesday on New Hampshire's Mt. Washington. A temperature of 35 below zero was intensified by wind gusts up to 88 miles an hour.

Temperatures moderated slightly in the Deep South, but frost again whitened many areas as far south as central Georgia. Florida citrus groves generally escaped effects of a hard freeze Thursday in other sections of the South.

Nixon Budget Calls for $229.2 Billion for Full Employment SpendingBudget Aim to Stimulate Economy

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon sent his full-employment blueprint for fiscal year 1972 to Congress today—a $229.2 billion budget designed to stimulate the slack economy.

The total for the year starting July 1 was no secret, having been leaked, widely published and never denied. Neither was the fact federal bookkeeping would show deep deficits both for the current fiscal year and next.

But Nixon has vowed that the government ledger will show a "full-employment surplus." The full-employment budget principle applies the spend-it-like-you-got-it principle, to this extent:

The proposed outlays, though much higher than the actual revenues in sight, will not exceed the taxes which would be pouring into the Treasury if the country had full employment—that is, if joblessness were at 4 per cent instead of the present 6 per cent.

As long as the spending is below that level, the deficit spending will supply a needed stimulus to the economy, according to the full-employment-budget theory. If outlays rise much above the full-employment revenues—as they did in the late 1960s—the extra flow of dollars into the public's pockets will bid up prices and revive inflation.

The annual message is expected to spell out Nixon's plans for the announced $16-billion federal-state revenue-sharing program in greater detail than he did in the address to Congress. Strong opposition already has developed in both House and Senate.

Living Costs
Continue to Spiral

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The rise in living costs quickened again in December, wiping out another half-cent from every dollar and winding up 1970 as the second worst inflationary year in two decades, the government reported today.

The rise of five-tenths of one per cent in living costs last month, up from a three-tenths rise a month before, was largely due to higher costs of housing services, medical care, food and automobiles.

The report brought the total rise in living costs for 1970 to 5.5 per cent, second only to 1969's 6.1 rise in the last 20 years.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon called today for a record $229.2 billion spending for fiscal 1972 in a "full employment budget" built on two massive deficits totaling $30.2 billion this year and next.

Nixon told Congress his deliberate deficit policy—reversing generations of Republican economic orthodoxy—signals the activist administration role in restoring "a prosperity without war and without runaway inflation."

"The full employment budget idea is in the nature of a self-fulfilling prophecy," the President said.

"By operating as if we were at full employment, we will help to bring about full employment."

Nixon asked no new taxes for the year starting July 1 to pare the deficit. It may be cut nevertheless, by a congressional refusal to vote all of the proposed new spending. His huge revenue sharing plan, a $4 billion price tag for fiscal 1972 and $5 billion for the full first year, is under heavy attack.

Defense outlays will be raised by $1.6 billion if Congress consents, even though the armed forces will diminish to their lowest strength in 10 years. Higher pay and the rising cost of weaponry will boost the Pentagon budget to nearly $75 billion.

The addition of $1.025 billion for military aid to allied nations brings total military outlays to about $76 billion. Budget officials refused to disclose how much of the cost is earmarked for the Vietnam war.

Nixon called for a 6 per cent cost-of-living increase in Social Security benefits retroactive to Jan. 1. Thereafter, he proposed, there should be annual, automatic increases to match inflation.

Overall, the budget bulge was about what had been predicted for Nixon's "New American Revolution"—his slogan for restoring fiscal power to the hard-pressed states and cities by sharing Treasury revenues—plus Cabinet reorganization, welfare reform, new housing programs and the rising cost of fighting crime and pollution.

Deficits of about $15 billion each for fiscal 1971 and 1972 had been expected. Instead, this year's deficit came out at $18.6 billion, making 1971 the second worst red-ink year since World War II.

The budget for 1972—presidential election year—will have a smaller deficit, $11.6 billion—if Treasury receipts reach Nixon's estimated total of $217.6 billion.

However, almost all private forecasts of economic activity have been lower. If these prove to be right and the government wrong, Nixon's 1972 deficit will

Bombers Hit Along Laos Border

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers raided along the border between North Vietnam and Laos today, dropping hundreds of tons of explosives on enemy supply routes.

A spokesman said all of the raids were on the Laotian side of the border except for one in the northwest corner of South Vietnam, 15 miles northwest of Khe Sanh. This same region has been hit a dozen times this month.

"We are getting indications of infiltration of supplies and troops in the region northwest of Khe Sanh," said one source. He said some of this traffic may move on farther south since "the route at this point moves out of Laos and bends into South Vietnam, then back into Laos." Despite the proximity of many of the raids to North Vietnamese surface-to-air missile — SAM — sites on the North Vietnamese side of the border, there was no report of hostile enemy activity provoking an attack by the B52's fighter escorts. However, such attacks are not usually announced for 24 hours or more.

No major fighting was reported in South Vietnam as the four-day cease-fire proclaimed by the Viet Cong for Tet, the lunar new year festival, drew to a close. It was to end at 1 a.m. Saigon time Saturday—or noon Friday EST.

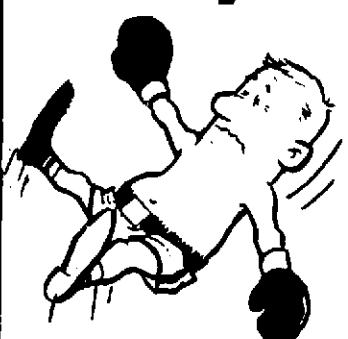

A 24-hour cease-fire by the South Vietnamese and Americans for Tet ended Wednesday night.

In Cambodia, government troops sweeping around Phnom Penh reported no significant contact with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces for the fourth consecutive day.

Cambodian security forces seized 500 pounds of plastic explosives during a search of houses in the Chinese and Vietnamese sections of the capital. A military spokesman said the explosives were to have been used in blowing up a bridge.

The house-to-house search was ordered after a series of terror incidents in Phnom Penh over the weekend.

The House wrote into its appropriations bill this year that each representative could draw up to $140 a week on submission of a voucher stating his expenses, which he is not required to itemize. The procedure was established partly in order to ensure the constitutionality of the payment.

Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs has said that the state Supreme Court has upheld such payments as long as legislators are reimbursed only for expenses actually incurred and are not given a specified sum no matter what their expenses are.

The allowance has been defended as a necessity to help legislators defray increasing costs of serving in the General Assembly. Foster said lodging and food while staying in Little Rock was a legislator's big expense.

Army Drops Charge in My Lai Case

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, acting "in the best interests of justice," dropped all charges today against Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, former West Point superintendent, accused in the alleged cover-up of the massacre of South Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

The charges were dismissed by Lt. Gen. Jonathan O. Seaman, commanding general of the 1st Army at Ft. Meade, Md., who conducted the pre-trial investigation of Koster, who commanded the Army's Americal Division at the time of the My Lai incident of March 16, 1968. In a two-page statement, the Army said Seaman found "some evidence to support two of the specifications" against Koster, but after considering the charges "concluded that it would be in the best interests of justice to dismiss all of the charges."

The action leaves only two officers still facing possible court-martial for handling of a field investigation of the My Lai incident nearly three years ago when more than 100 South Vietnamese civilians allegedly were murdered by American troops.

They are Col. Oran K. Henderson and Capt. Dennis H. Johnson.

Thirteen officers and enlisted men originally were accused of committing crimes at My Lai, but charges have been dismissed against all but three. Murder charges are still pending against Captains Ernest L. Medina and Eugene J. Kotouc and 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr.

Calley is now on trial but the Army has yet to decide whether to court-martial the two captains. Koster and 13 other officers were accused of allegedly covering up the incident after a high-level Army probe reported evidence indicating that "certain persons, wittingly or unwittingly, suppressed certain information about the incident from passing up the chain of command."

Bridges said James L. Townley of Hurst, Tex., a former quality assurance supervisor for General Dynamics, was present when Davis gave him the instructions. Puckett said he prepared some of the inspection reports in the presence

The House passed on a vote of 72-5 a bill by Rep. W. F. Foster Sr. of England that would permit the state Highway Commission to set speed limits on the state's primary and secondary roads. The commission may now set limits on interstate highways, but the legislature establishes speed limits on other roads.

The House approved 81-0 a Senate bill to make a supplemental appropriation of $13,228 for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30 to hire additional personnel for the governor's mansion. The representatives refused to concur in two Senate amendments to a bill by Rep. Joel Ledbetter of Little Rock that would prohibit state agencies and institutions from purchasing or leasing additional data processing equipment without state Administration Department approval. One Senate amendment would exempt the state-supported colleges and universities from the bill and the other would exempt the constitutional officers.

The House approved 72-0 a bill by Rep. Leon Holsted of North Little Rock to eliminate a requirement that policemen must reach the age of 51 before becoming eligible to retire on 20 years of service. Passed 82-0 was a bill by Rep. Harry Carter of Little Rock that would permit school districts to buy group disability insurance for employees. The Senate approved a House bill that would require that medical insurance policies give policyholders the right to accept or reject coverage for treatment by chiropractors. The approved measure had been amended by the Senate to make the coverage optional rather than required and the House concurred in the amendment.

At a public hearing on the bill earlier in the day, E. M. Arnold, president of Union Life Insurance Co. at Little Rock, said the amendment was a "happy solution" to differences over the bill. Medical doctors and chiropractors at the hearing agreed that the amendment by Sen. Bill H. Walmsley of Batesville was acceptable.

The Senate voted 30-0 to approve and send to the House a bill that would appropriate $30,000 for preinaugural expenses of the next nonincumbent elected governor.

Bill Butler to Aid Heart Campaign

Appointment of Bill Butler as chairman of "Heart-Days-for-Business" in Hope was announced today by Mrs. George Young, 1971 Heart Fund Campaign Chairman here. Mr. Butler is associated with the Citizens Bank.

This will be a solicitation of businessmen by businessmen. It will cover stores, service stations, garages, professional offices, theatres, city offices and all other non-residential places of the community. This "Heart-Days-for-Business" canvass will get underway here Monday, February 1 and continue for eight days, highlighting the early part of the 1971 Heart Fund Campaign.

Mr. Butler said it is hoped that all kits will be turned in not later than February 15.

Mr. Butler pointed out that the heart and blood vessel diseases cost the nation's business and industry over 50,000,000 man-days of production each year. Mr. Butler added that in the pre-retirement years before 65, diseases of the heart and blood vessels take more lives than the next five leading causes of death combined. These diseases pose a constant threat to business and industry, afflicting skilled workers and executives in their most productive years.

"Throughout the nation the economic cost of heart and blood vessel disease is estimated at about $10 billion, or approximately $40 per person. If the per capita cost here is only half the national average, it follows that these diseases are costing the people of Hempstead County at least $375,000 per year," said Mr. Butler.

Professor Is Fired LOS ANGELES (AP) — A mathematics professor with tenure at a California state college has been fired for allowing a graduate student to teach one of his classes while he instructed at a private institution.

It is the first time since the 19-campus California state college system has been governed by a single board that an instructor granted tenure was dismissed.

Trustees voted 9 to 2 Wednesday in firing Dr. Ernest J. Eckert, 44, a 12-year veteran of the faculty at California State College at Los Angeles.

Professors granted tenure, a system in higher education protecting faculty members, can be fired only for "extraordinary" reasons.

COMMON MALADY—BURGLAR PARANOIA

Dear Helen:

My husband is a sane man who has suddenly gone crazy on burglar alarms. He has every window wired so that if they're even jarred, screaming noises happen—and this can really shake you in the middle of the night when the wind or an animal sets one off.

He's got our sliding doors so well reinforced that I can't open them without major carpentry. Our back door has two bolts and a chain lock, and you should see the front door! I'm not supposed to open it unless I peek through the periscope type viewer, then communicate by intercom. Even so, I must never take the chain off unless I recognize the person.

Now he wants to equip our house with an alarm system that will light up at a central place where they'll call the police immediately. It costs into the thousands!

Helen, if we must live in such abject fear, why live at all? Isn't this big push for "home protection" something like the last scare about backyard bomb shelters? I realize a little caution is a good thing, but it seems to me promoters are overdoing it—they're hitting the fright button to make a bundle for themselves.

And some people, like my man, become "protection collectors." It's like a hobby—trying to see what gadget you'll get next to outdo your neighbor.

How about injecting a little sanity into the burgeoning burglar alarm business? NOT THAT PARANOID

Dear Not: I know a man who spent weeks burglar-proofing his home before a vacation, then in the rush of last minute alarm settings, walked off and forgot to lock his front door.

Three weeks later he returned to an un-hit house. I know another family whose elaborate system of bells, lights, etc. only challenged intruders. They were burglarized twice, vandalized once, and now the man has a loaded gun by his bed—an extremely dangerous practice.

So what can I say? With break-ins increasing several hundred percent in many areas, home protection seems frighteningly necessary. But even the best is not fool-proof. And paranoia can (as you say) turn a sane person into a fear-freak.

Suggestions, anyone? —H. Dear Helen:

I feel silly, writing about this at my age, which is 47.

I'm still quite attractive, love to go out, enjoy life, and think my husband is great. He is very

Cash Finds Arizona Weather Chilly, but Reception Warm

By JOAN CROSBY

TUCSON, Ariz.—(N.E.A.)—In all respects but one, it's an Arizona day. The air is clean, the sun is bright and the shadows on the jagged mountains turn from blue to lavender to purple depending on the time of day. But it's unusually cold.

You can tell because Johnny Cash is wearing his coat in a building in Old Tucson, a Western village which is both tourist attraction and movie set. It's situated in the Santa Catalina Mountains amid magnificent desert scenery. Despite the cold, a few red blooms appear atop the stately ocotillo cactus.

Cash is there because, for the first time, his Screen Gems-produced ABC-TV series is leaving Nashville to film a program about the Old West. It's called Johnny Cash Presents a Ballad of the West and it will be telecast, with Kirk Douglas, the Over-the-Hill Gang (Walter Brennan, Andy Devine, Chill Wills and Edgar Buchanan) and Roy Rogers and Dale Evans as guests, on Feb. 3.

Tucson really spread the welcome mat for big John and his petite wife, June, who was decked out in a chinchilla coat and hat to ward off the cold. There were cocktail parties, Chamber of Commerce receptions, the presence of Gov. Jack Williams and Tucson Mayor Jim Corbett at an early morning breakfast and a late entrance by the Cashes.

"It was my fault," June Carter Cash told the crowd. "I wanted to look pretty for you all, so I put these curlers in my hair and two of them got stuck and I couldn't get them out. Honest to goodness, that's what happened."

The crowd laughed and fell in love.

John was given a bolo tie, made for him, and all kinds of honorary citizenships. He and June were presented with 10-gallon hats. June's was a lovely shade of raspberry. She put it on and kept it on. Johnny looked at his

he came, he saw, he shivered

and said, "Well, this will be the second time in my life that I've worn a hat," then put his on for photographers.

The first time he donned a hat? For his movie with Kirk Douglas, "Gunfight."

Cash and his producers, Joe Byrne and Harold D. Cohen, are planning other "specials" to follow the recent two-part history of country music and this salute to the West. One will be on gospel music.

"It always makes me feel good to be treated as if I'm back home," John said. Indeed, Southern and Western hospitality are as alike as blackeyed peas in a pod.

"There has been talk of doing a Western TV special for four or five years," John commented, "so I was thrilled when I found it was finally coming around. All Americans feel that this part of the country belongs to them. All daddies tell stories about the West to their children."

Which brings up the most important subject of all: John Carter Cash, lacking a few weeks of one year of life.

"He's an unusual baby," June says. "And he loves his daddy very much."

Johnny corrected her. "He's crazy about his daddy."

She smiled. "I nursed the baby and they always say babies are closer to mothers who nurse them. Well, I declare, he just uses me on his way to daddy."

Girls Go to Finals; Cats Meet Camden

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Two down and only one more to go! That's what everyone is talking about now, after the Kittycats won their second game of the Nashville tournament.

Taking only eight players to the game and leaving the rest at home to play in the Mineral Springs game, the Kittycats thrashed Ashdown, 27-20.

That victory, coupled with the loss to Mineral Springs, brings the Hope girls' record to 11-5 for the season.

After receiving the first-quarter tipoff, Hope could not go anywhere, and quickly fell behind, 2-0, before Gigi Gladney hit a field goal with 4:13 left in the period.

A two minute cold streak ended when Cory Coleman put the Kittycats ahead for good with a free throw. Jill Herring's free shot, with 33 seconds left, gave Hope a low scoring, 4-2, margin now entering the second stanza.

After Gladney sank four more points, Herring put one through the net with 3:46 left in the half, for a 10-2 lead.

Herring and Gladney then each hit two points, and although Ashdown tried to regain lost ground, they trailed at halftime, 14-7.

Reviewing the first half of the game, the second half must be the same, low scoring.

For the first three minutes of the third quarter, Hope could not score, and meanwhile the Pantherettes had pulled to within four, 14-10.

With 2:58 left in the period, after Hope had called time out, Gladney connected for a long jumpshot. Four straight free throws by Gladney gave the Kittycats a 20-12 score at the close of the third period.

Taking the fourth quarter tipoff, the Kittycats wasted little time in scoring as Gladney drove in for two points and second later hit a pair of charity shots for a 24-12, Hope lead.

With a little over three minutes left in the game, Coleman sank a free throw and immediately Hope started freezing the ball.

After Ashdown hit four points, the Kittycats took a time out and eight seconds later, Coleman hit two free throws for the final points of the game.

Gladney led the scoring with 18 points, with Coleman hitting seven and Herring tipping in five.

Defensively, Carol Frazier, Mona Rowe and Sharon Ratliff must be given good recognition for their tight play, forcing the Pantherettes to try the outside shots.

Bobcats To Camden
Tonight, the Bobcats and Bobkittens travel to Camden for two games, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Hope holds a 3-0 conference record while Camden is sitting on a 1-2 slate. Over all the Bobcats own a 13-5 record.

Camden has two of the top league scorers, but they, like all the others, are far behind Hope's John Dudley, who has hit 92 points in three games for a 31 point per game average in district play.

Dudley also leads in rebounds with 45, while Parker Powell lead the Bobcats in free throw percentages with well over 80 per cent.

The Panthers use a 1-2-1 on defense and on offense stay mostly with a 2-1-2 with man to man coverage.

But I'll take the Bobcats. They have worked hard to be where they are now, and there's no reason to stop.

Venus, the most brilliant planet in our solar system, is both a morning and an evening star.

Allen Took Half of Rams With Him

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
George Allen didn't mind leaving Los Angeles—he took half of it with him.

Dealing for quantity and quality, the new Washington Redskins' coach acquired a stack of dazzling defenders in a king-size National Football League trade Thursday with his former club.

Coming to Washington was practically half of the Rams' defense—linebackers Myron Pottios, Jack Pardee and Maxie Baughan and tackle Diron Talbert—as well as guard John Wilbur and running back Jeff Jordan.

"The future is now," said Allen, who parted with linebacker Marlin McKeever and the Redskins' first and third round college draft picks this year, plus their third through seventh choices in 1972.

The Redskins, biggest wheel-dealers on pro football's trade mart Thursday, also picked up the Rams' fifth round draft choice in the big deal.

Washington also landed the rights to former receiver Boyd Dowler from Green Bay for a fifth round draft choice. Dowler was Allen's assistant last year on the Rams.

Apparently not entirely happy with the new crop of college players selected Thursday, Los Angeles, Green Bay, Denver, Minnesota, Philadelphia and Detroit were involved in other deals.

The Rams went after more running power by adding Travis Williams, the Green Bay thunderbolt. Los Angeles coughed up its second round draft choice this year and another undisclosed pick next for Williams and a fourth round Packer pick in 1971.

Green Bay, a recent disappointment after several golden years, also looked to Denver and Minnesota for more action. The Packers sent Don Horn, their young quarterback, to Denver for defensive end Alden Roche and the clubs also swapped positions in the first round of the draft. Green Bay getting No. 9 and Denver, No. 12.

The Pack then grabbed the rights to former quarterback Zeke Bratkowski from Minnesota. Bratkowski had been a coach for Green Bay for two years, although the Vikings held the rights to him as a player.

Green Bay's part of the deal was an undisclosed draft choice for 1972.

Minnesota also got quarterback Norm Snead from Philadelphia, giving up tackle Steve Smith and its second and sixth picks in the 1971 draft, plus a third-round choice in 1972.

While Philadelphia gave up its longtime No. 1 quarterback, the Eagles went after younger blood in Detroit's Greg Barton. Philadelphia handed over its No. 2 draft pick this year and two more choices in 1972.

Moore, Dicus Only Porks to Be Drafted

NEW YORK (AP)—Two University of Arkansas football players were drafted Thursday during the first seven rounds of the professional football draft.

Jerry Moore, a defensive halfback, was drafted in the fourth round by the Chicago Bears and Chuck Dicus, a wide receiver, was taken in the seventh round by the San Diego Chargers.

Former Davis Cup Player Dies at 72

BALTIMORE (AP)—Charles S. Garland, a former Davis Cup tennis star who went on to excel in banking, education and civic affairs, died late Thursday night at the age of 72.

Garland was junior singles tennis champion of the United States as early as 1915, and captained the Yale University tennis team.

He and R. Norris Williams II in 1920 were the first American doubles team ever to win at Wimbledon. In the same year Garland played on the U.S. Davis Cup team, and in 1927 served as the non-playing captain of the team.

Garland continued to play tennis until the late 1920s, when he gave it up for golf.

QB Trades Big a Splash as Pro Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The

Year of the Quarterback is spilling over into 1971 and the National Football League but, oddly enough, traded quarterbacks have made almost as big a splash as drafted quarterbacks at the pros' annual talent roundup.

Standard's Jim Plunkett, Mississippi's Archie Manning and Santa Clara's Dan Pastorini, best-in-breed of college football's blue-ribbon senior quarterbacks, were the 1-2-3 first-round picks, as expected, in Thursday's opening session of the NFL draft.

But before another signal-caller got the call, two rounds and five hours later, a series of significant trades—four of them shifting NFL quarterbacks and another involving no less than seven players and eight draft choices—commandeered the spotlight.

In two of the quarterback exchanges, Philadelphia sent 10-year veteran Norm Snead to Minnesota and obtained Greg Barton, a promising youngster, from Detroit.

In the others, Green Bay dealt Don Horn, once groomed as Bart Starr's successor, to Denver and then reacquired the playing rights to 39-year-old pensioner Zeke Bratkowski from Minnesota.

The day's blockbuster trade, between Washington and Los Angeles, had no bearing on the quarterback sweepstakes, however.

It was sprung about one-half hour after the Boston Patriots, betting their future against 17 trade offers, selected Plunkett, the 1970 Heisman Trophy winner and all-time major college passing king, to kick off the draft.

After the rebuilding Patriots ended the suspense over their disposition of the No. 1 pick, New Orleans chose Manning, Houston tapped Pastorini, Buffalo grabbed wide receiver J.D. Hill of Arizona State and Philadelphia took defensive lineman Richard Harris of Grambling.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle then interrupted the proceedings to announce that George Allen, the new Washington coach who was cut loose by Los Angeles, had landed six of his old Rams — at the expense of half-a-dozen draft picks.

The 'Skins acquired four 1970 Los Angeles regulars—defensive tackle Diron Talbert and linebackers Jack Pardee, Myron Pottios and Maxie Baughan—plus guard John Wilbur, running back Jeff Jordan and the Rams' No. 5 draft choice.

The Rams got linebacker Marlin McKeever, Washington's first and third draft picks this year and the 'Skins Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 selections next year.

"I hated to give up the men we did as they had all given valuable service to the Rams," said Tommy Prothro, Allen's successor as the Los Angeles coach. "However, I feel it was a good trade for the future."

"The future is now," said Allen. "We want to win in 1971. None of this building."

Boston owner Billy Sullivan and Coach John Mazur shared Prothro's long view in explaining their decision to go for Plunkett instead of the expedient help a multi-player deal might have brought.

"He's the Namath of the future," said Mazur, who made up his mind after watching the 6-foot-3 Stanford ace shoot down favored Ohio State with a 20-for-30, 265-yard passing spree in the Rose Bowl.

Sullivan's next move will be to sign the prize rookie, who plans to visit Boston sometime next week with his attorney, Wayne Hooper. Plunkett, who holds the all-time record of 7,544 career passing yards, reportedly will seek a $250,000, long-term contract.

quarterback, is in the middle of a three-year pact at an estimated $130,000 per year. And, according to Sullivan, he still has the inside track for the 1971 starting job.

"If I have to sit on the bench and learn, that's what I'll do," Plunkett said.

Manning and Pastorini would appear to have good shots at the No. 1 quarterbacking jobs for New Orleans and Houston. But subsequent developments in the draft—and outside it—seemed to leave little room at the top for other rookie passers.

Running backs and defensive backs were dominant throughout the remainder of the first round, with Kansas' John Riggins (New York Jets), Ohio State's John Brockington (Green Bay) and Jack Tatum (Oakland), and North Carolina's Don McCauley (Baltimore) among the prominent draftees.

The selectors didn't tap another quarterback until Round 3, when Houston selected Kansas State's Lynn Dickey to complement, and challenge Pastorini. Dickey was the 56th of 182 players chosen in the seven rounds completed Thursday. Ten more rounds, involving 260 players, were to complete the marathon today.

Ouachita in Victory Over Henderson

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Ouachita's Baptist University grabbed the lead early in the second half and went on to a 71-62 victory over Henderson here Thursday night.

The loss dropped Henderson to 7-4 in conference play, two losses behind Southern State, Arkansas Tech and Arkansas AM&N. OBU is 8-6 in conference play.

Henderson led 33-31 at the half, but a field goal by Bill Hodges and a free throw by Tommy Patterson put the Tigers on top 34-33 with 18:45 remaining in the game and the Reddies never caught up. Hodges paced the Tigers with 21 points. Mike Peterson led Henderson with 25 points.

In conference action tonight, Southern State plays College of the Ozarks at Magnolia and AM&N meets State College of Arkansas at Conway.

Razorbacks Defeated by Washburn

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Kevin Sweeney and Harold Brown, a pair of hot-shooting guards, combined for 46 points to lead the Washburn, Kan., Ichabods to an 80-75 victory over the University of Arkansas here Thursday night.

Sweeney scored 28 points and Brown 18 as the Ichabods hit 61 per cent of their shots from the floor.

Washburn upped its record to 10-6 while the Razorbacks, sluggish after a 12-day layoff, dropped to 4-11.

Vernon Murphy led the Razorbacks with 19 points and Bobby Vint contributed 13 points.

The Razorbacks were hampered by their inability to hit from the free throw line, converting only 19 of 36 opportunities.

Rod Laver Has Racket—$5,000 Hour

NEW YORK (AP) — You must admit Rod Laver has a racket, making about $5,000 an hour.

"It's getting easier as I go along," said the masterful Australian after stopping American Arthur Ashe 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4 Thursday night in the $210,000 Tennis Champions Classic.

Laver's comeback victory in Madison Square Garden lasted a little over two hours, and he pocketed $10,000 from the night's work—the seventh straight time he's done it in this rich classic.

With $70,000 already in the Laver till, the hotshot tennis star has a chance to win $170,000 if he sweeps the rest of the field.

Ashe thinks he has a good chance. "I don't think Laver will lose a match," said Ashe. "Actually, only Tony Roche can beat him."

Actually, no one's going to beat Laver if he played anything like he did Thursday night. After losing the first set, the sharp-shooting Aussie battled back on the strength of his bullet serves.

The loss dropped Ashe out of the competition. The Richmond Va., star had just turned pro for the classic.

Laver gets his eighth crack at another $10,000 prize when he meets Roger Taylor in a Los Angeles battle on Feb. 3.

Holland's Tom Okker will meet the winner of that contest in a championship collision in New York Feb. 6. Okker earned the berth by whipping Australia's John Newcombe 6-4, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3 Thursday night.

State Wins to Up Record in Cage Play

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University, led by sophomore Steve Brooks, upped its record to 8-6 with a 94-86 victory over Virginia Commonwealth here Thursday night.

Brooks scored a career high 29 points and pulled down 12 rebounds. John Belcher had 23 points for the Indians and Allan Pruett added 19.

ASU led by 10 points midway through the second half, but the Rams tied the score 75-75 with five minutes to play. The Indians rebounded for a three-point advantage and pulled away.

Greg McDougald led the Rams with 23 points and Bernard Harris added 15. Virginia Commonwealth is 10-6 for the season.

Briton Wins the Monte Carlo Rally

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Sweden's Ove Andersson and David Stone of Britain today unofficially won the toughest Monte Carlo Rally in a decade, leading throughout the 3,400-mile event and heading a winning parade of three French Alpine Renaults.

It was the first time in the four years the Alpines have run that they had won.

Andersson had a lead of just 40 seconds over Alpine teammates Jean-Luc Therier and Marcel Caluwaert of France, with another Alpine, driven by Jean Claude Andruet and Guy Vial, France sharing third place with the Porsche 914-6 of former winner Bjorn Waldegaard and Hans Thorsellus of Sweden.

Alpine also won the prize for a three-car team and finished five of its six works cars among 23 cars that survived of the 248 starters a week ago.

German girls Hannelore Werner and Ode Dencker-Anderson were unofficial winners of the Ladies' Cup with Ireland's Rosemary Smith and Alice Watson second.

The results were due to be made official at 2 p.m. today and there could be changes if the drivers have incurred penalties on the road sections between the speed tests or for damage to their vehicles.

About 5:30 A.M. France's Marie Claude Beaumont, running second in the Ladies Cup and 22nd over-all in a big Opel Commodore, retired with mechanical failure, leaving Miss Werner and Miss Smith the only all girl crews still running.

With the spread over the top four cars just one minute, 27 seconds, the tension was high as the drivers started the last speed stage, down the narrow Madone Pass, beset with hairpin bends.

Andersson went into the stage with only a 32-second lead over

Two Locked in Duel for Position

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mark Donohue and Pedro Rodriguez, locked in a head-to-head duel for the pole position and favorite's role in this weekend's Daytona 24-Hour Race, get their final shot at the timing clocks today.

The two adversaries, both former winners who rank among the world's elite road racers, headed into the final session of time trials separated by only a mile per hour in lap speeds—and each promising they could do better than their record-breaking efforts of Thursday.

Donohue, known as "Mr. Nice" among followers of motor racing, drove a Roger Penske-prepared Ferrari 512 to an astonishing 133.919 miles per hour lap over the 3.81 mile Daytona International Speedway track-road course Thursday to grab a shaky hold on the prestigious pole position for Saturday's 3 p.m. start.

Nipping at his heels, Rodriguez flashed around in one of the Gulf-sponsored J. W. Wyer Engineering Porsches at 132.838 m.p.h. Donohue completed his top lap in 1 minute, 42.42 seconds, Rodriguez in 1:43.68.

Two final sessions of qualifying today will set a 65-car line-up for America's longest and most demanding race, won for the third time last year by Rodriguez, with help from Finland's Leo Kinnunen.

The first race of the annual speed weeks program was to be run during the afternoon. Drivers from around the world were to compete in the 125-mile Brundage International Trophy event for formula vee cars.

The drivers have made mincemeat of Dayton's speed records for sports, prototype and grand touring cars.

Mario Andretti set the old lap record for sports cars when he Therier, but as he had done throughout the Rally he put on exactly the performance needed to hold first place — this time to confirm his victory.

Bobsledders Prepare for Championship

CERVINIA, Italy (AP) — A heavily trimmed rank of bobsledders prepared today for the world four-man championships on the Blue Lake track.

Accidents have cut the number of crews entered in the championship competition Saturday and Sunday to 16 from an originally scheduled 26.

The Americans, plagued by a string of accidents and by the refusal of some team members to slide, only have a sled driven by Harry Petersen, Pottersville, N.Y. He will drive Will Dan Fay, Potsdam, N.Y., William Coulson, Little Creek, Va., and Phil Duprey, Saranac Lake, N.Y.

The French and the Czechs were scratched by the international jury, which ruled they did not have adequate training for championship competition. This was the first sign of the jury's intervention to cut the number of accidents in these championships.

As the bobsledders rested today, organizers had several crews scattered on the course to prepare it for the official championship heats. The organizers had asked that the last trial run Thursday be scratched because of cracks on the course.

Hamilton Tops PGA Veterans' Tournament

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Bob Hamilton shot a six-under-par 66 to take a three-stroke lead into the second round of a PGA veterans' tournament here Thursday.

The man from Santa Claus, Ind., who won the Professional Golfers Association title in 1944, took the first-round lead in the $40,000 PGA Mercury Seniors tournament Thursday with a six-under par 66, establishing a record for the newly-revamped east course at the PGA's National Golf Club.

Behind him at 69 were Tommy Bolt of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Marty Furgol of Morris-town, N.J.

Dale Grieve of Muskegon, Mich., was fourth at 70 and Harry Williams Jr. of Sweetwood, Pa., followed at 71.

The 72-hole tournament is for PGA members who have reached their 50th birthday.

Mel Counts Coming Into His Own

For years, Mel Counts sat in Wilt Chamberlain's shadow at Los Angeles.

But now he's letting the sun shine in with Phoenix.

The steady seven-footer scored 29 points to lead the Suns over the Lakers and Chamberlain 118-112 in the National Basketball Association Thursday night.

Counts was picked up by Phoenix after last season to add more rebounds and scoring power to Suns' front line.

In an abbreviated NBA schedule Thursday night, Seattle defeated Buffalo 120-110 in the only other game.

In the American Basketball Association, Memphis ran by Texas 122-99 in the only contest.

Phoenix broke open a tight game towards the end of the third quarter to move into an 11-point lead. Then the Lakers scored 12 straight points to grab an 86-85 lead at the end of three quarters.

But the Lakers' suddenly were ice-cold from the floor at the start of the fourth quarter and couldn't score a field goal for more than five minutes. The Suns took advantage behind Counts' points and rebounds to take a lead they never relinquished.

Clem Haskins contributed 21 points and Connie Hawkins added 19 to the Phoenix cause. Jerry West lead Los Angeles with 27 points and Chamberlain had 24.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's 1971 plan for protecting the environment will be a multi-headed package emphasizing prevention of ecological crises and giving states major responsibilities in the field, congressional sources say.
In one of the administration's new proposals, noise limits would be placed on everything from construction equipment to power lawn mowers and snowmobiles, the sources say.
Regulations would prohibit scarring of the land, such as by strip mining.
The administration's legislative package and the President's environment message, due on Capitol Hill about Feb. 8, will commit the federal government to greater expenditures in the popular fight against and water pollution and in creation of more parks in urban areas.
Explaining the more than 20 proposed measures to key congressmen this week, administration spokesmen have been selling the program chiefly as preventive legislation to avoid crises in the future, an observer at one briefing said.
One of the major new responsibilities for state governments would be to come up with specific land-use regulations within the scope of broad federal guidelines.
The President will ask Congress for about $20 million in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the sources said, to offer the states as grants in developing land-use plans and enforcement procedures.
Private firms, port authorities and local governments—even the federal government—would have to comply with the state land-use policy before they could begin construction projects under this law.
Other administration proposals, sources said, will include:
—Regulations limiting the amount of certain chemicals and other toxic substances in manufacturing processes and in marketable products.
—Limits on sulfur oxide emissions which result when some coal and other fossil fuels are burned. The administration, it explained, wants to place new taxes on fuels with high sulfur content as an incentive for greater use of low sulfur fuel.
—A tax on gasoline containing lead additives as an incentive for motorists to buy non-lead fuel. This was proposed during the last session of Congress but failed.
—Regulations against unlimited ocean dumping of wastes and sewage.

Hashish Choice of Young
WASHINGTON (AP) — Bureau of Customs Commissioner Myles J. Ambrose says hashish now "is the drug of considerable choice of young people."
Ambrose made the statement Wednesday in disclosing the bureau seized 3,819 pounds of hashish in 1970, a 137 per cent increase over 1969.
He said the bureau kept no figures on smuggled-in hashish before 1967 because the amount was so small.
Seizures of other drugs also increased, he said, listing more than 100,000 pounds of marijuana seized in 1970, compared with 57,000 pounds in 1969.

Explaining the more than 20 proposed measures to key congressmen this week, administration spokesmen have been selling the program chiefly as preventive legislation to avoid crises in the future, an observer at one briefing said.
One of the major new responsibilities for state governments would be to come up with specific land-use regulations within the scope of broad federal guidelines.
The President will ask Congress for about $20 million in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the sources said, to offer the states as grants in developing land-use plans and enforcement procedures.
Private firms, port authorities and local governments—even the federal government—would have to comply with the state land-use policy before they could begin construction projects under this law.
Other administration proposals, sources said, will include:
—Regulations limiting the amount of certain chemicals and other toxic substances in manufacturing processes and in marketable products.
—Limits on sulfur oxide emissions which result when some coal and other fossil fuels are burned. The administration, it explained, wants to place new taxes on fuels with high sulfur content as an incentive for greater use of low sulfur fuel.
—A tax on gasoline containing lead additives as an incentive for motorists to buy non-lead fuel. This was proposed during the last session of Congress but failed.
—Regulations against unlimited ocean dumping of wastes and sewage.

COMES BACK TO THE GIVER

HARMONY

That means good music. And good music is the result of hours and hours of painstaking, disciplined practice---learning how to properly mix concords with discords. It takes the proper mixture of both to produce the ensemble.

It is that way with the beautiful life, too. It requires continuous effort and application. A lot of doing is necessary ---social service, church attendance and support, a love for God and much prayer. Compare the music of the beginning musician with that of the concert performer. Then one can understand there is much work to be done in the church God put right in the middle of a discordant world.

The Church and You can create soul-stirring music from worldly discords. It is called harmony in the church.

San Fernando Stakes Has Returned

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Fernando Stakes, lucrative to the tune of $60,000 added and the final stepping stone to the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub, returns to Santa Anita Saturday after a year's absence because of a strike.

This year's renewal of the 1 1/2 mile San Fernando is expected to draw eight 4-year-olds including William Haggin Perry's Loud, the 1970 Travers winner; R. M. Miller's Hanalei Bay, winner of last year's Hollywood Derby and second in two 1971 starts, and Charles Engelhard's stretch-running Protanto, first in the 1970 Roamer.

Loud, the likely favorite, will be ridden by Laffitt Pincay and will be co-high-weighted at 120 pounds with Hanalei Bay, ridden by Merlin Volzke. Protanto gets 117 including Bill Shoemaker.

As many as eight 3-year-olds could go to the post in the 11-16 mile, $30,000 Millitia Handicap. They include J. McCloy Davis' top-weighted Royal J.D., 123 pounds, and Murray Garren's Cocky Raider, 116.

Hickory Tree Stable's Towzie Tyke, winner of four straight before losing in the Old Line Handicap, and Favorecidian could take on nine opponents in the 11-16 mile $25,000-added City of Baltimore Handicap at Pimlico.

It appears that the $25,000-added Palm Beach Handicap over 11-16 miles on the grass at Hialeah might have to be split. There are as many as 25 possible starters. Among them are James B. Moseley's good race-mare, Drumtop, 118.

The 6-year-old Eltony, winner of last year's Louisiana Handicap, has drawn high weight of 120 pounds for the 11-16 mile $20,000-added Louisiana Handicap at the New Orleans Fair Grounds.

Interested Only in Winning Race

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Marty Liquori says he's only interested in winning tonight's mile at the Wanamaker-Millrose indoor track and field games, and if that's the case the four-minute barrier should fall for the first time in the 54 year history of the annual event.

The reason is simply that Tom VonRuden of the Pacific Coast Club, winner of the 1,000-yard run here last year, wanted in the one mile and predicted: "I'll better the four-minute mile for you."

So, in his case.

And Liquori, who'll be running his first mile of the indoor season, although he hasn't been beaten in 10 tries at the 11-lap tartan surface of Madison Square Garden, says he's ready.

"This is the first time I'm up for a race in six months," the 21-year-old Villanova senior says.

"This is my father's favorite meet, and since I only live about 45 minutes away, most of my friends and relatives come over."

Liquori, an Olympian as a college freshman, says he "hopes the pace is fast. I've expected to run under four minutes in my other Wanamaker victories, but no one was pushing."

Last year Marty of Cedar Grove, N.J., won in 4:02.6 and captured the event in 4:00.8 in 1969.

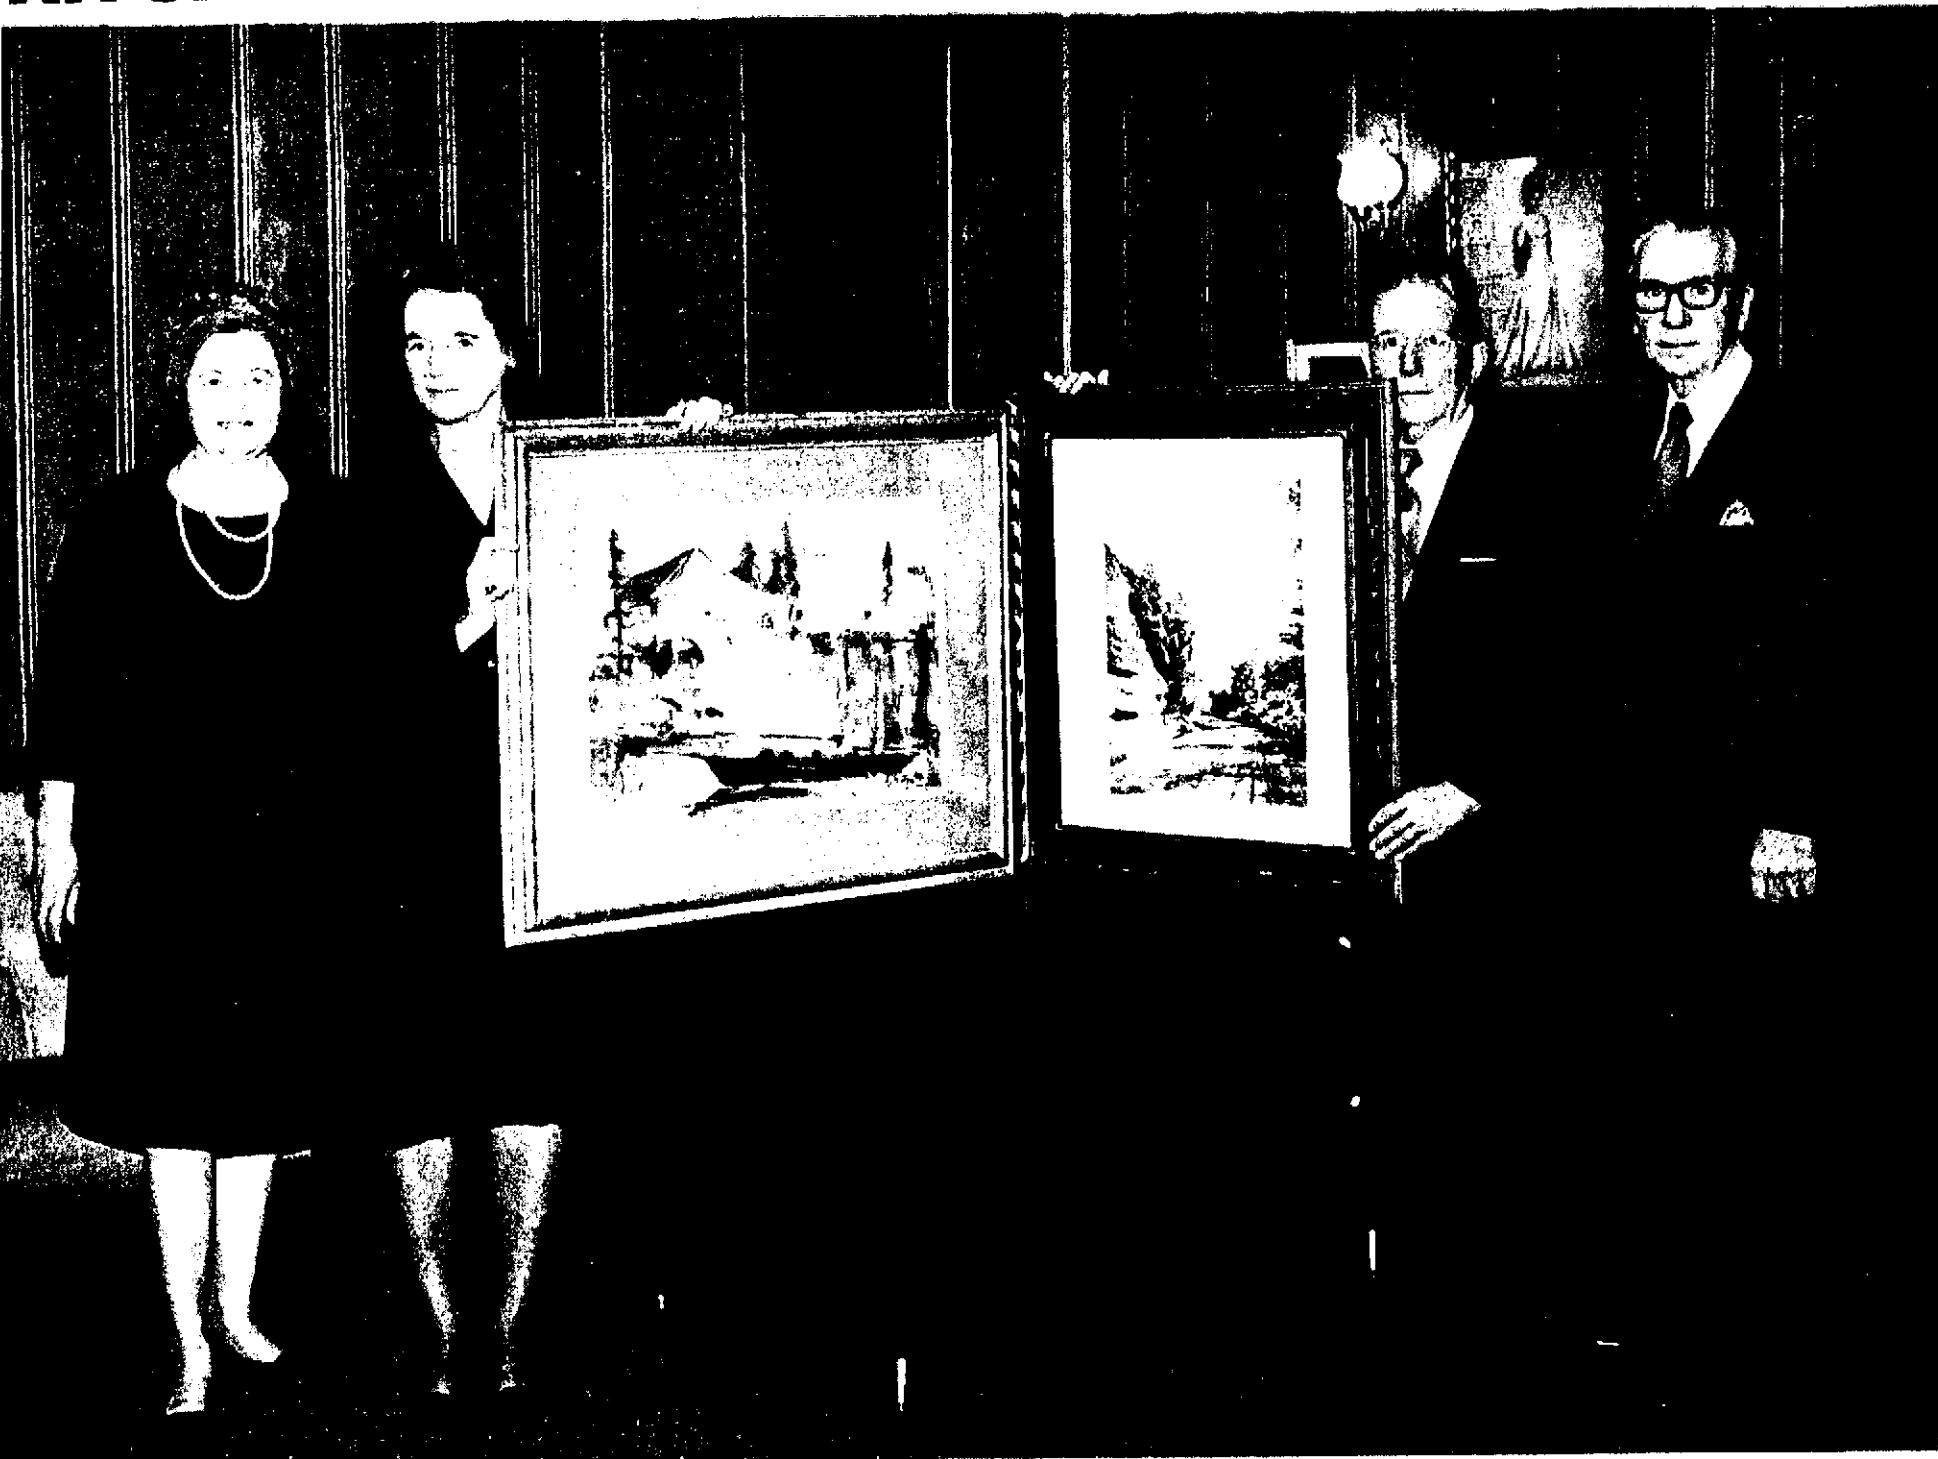

He should get a push from Von Ruden and Italy's Gianni Del Buono.

Other outstanding entries include Lt. Charlie Greene, Ben Vaughan, Capt. Mel Pender and Dr. Delano Meriwether, in the 60-yard dash; defending champion Jim Burnett in the 500-yard run; Olympic 400-meter winner Lee Evans in the 600; Brian McElroy and Eamon O'Keefe in the 880; American record holder Juris Luzins in the 1,000; and Frank Shorter, Jack Bacheiler and Barry Brown Buono in the two-mile.

The field events have a batch of 17-footers in the pole vault, including defending champion Dick Halsback, Olympic champ Bob Seagrave and American outdoor record holder John Pennel while the high jump has all seven-footers among them Reynaldo Brown, Italy's Ermanno Azzarini and defender Ron Jourdan.

Little League Basketball Big Success

The Junior Olympic Basketball Program is proving to be a very successful undertaking of the Parks & Recreation Department. With a total of eight teams in the league, over eighty boys are taking an active part each Saturday morning, not to mention the sixteen spirited coaches and all the boys' parents. Excitement is running high as each team has completed three games. Here are Saturday's results:

In the first game of the morning Western Auto defeated Herbert Burns 24 to 7. Elvin Davis led Western Auto with 13 points while Chris Cagle had 4 for Herbert Burns.

In game No. 2 Hope Builders Supply downed Moore Bros. 13 to 11. Gary Sinyard was high scorer for Hope Builders with 8 points, while Denny Wilson pumped in 5 for the losers.

In the 11:00 o'clock game J. A. West Co. gained their first win by easing past Sherwin-Williams 14 to 12. Bruce Huddleston took high point honors for West's with 10, while Lynn Ames and Ricky Stewart each had 4 for Sherwin-Williams.

In the last game of the day Tate Motor Co. took Crescent Drugs 18 to 10. Lavinskie Smith and Dickie Harris each had 5 points for Tate Motor, while Bobby Frazier and Charles Harris drilled in 3 each for Crescent Drugs.

Boston Bruins May Pop With Power Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Guess what? The Boston Bruins came up with a power play ... two, in fact.

Normally, that wouldn't be unusual. But the National Hockey League's best power play club has been frustrated of late, going three games without a goal and only two in the last nine.

However, that streak of futility came to an abrupt end Thursday night. Ken Hodge and Fred Stanfield canned two power goals within 78 seconds and the Bruins waltzed over Philadelphia 6-2.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the Detroit Red Wings and St. Louis Blues played to a 1-1 tie and the Chicago Black Hawks hammered Pittsburgh 4-1.

Ted Green got the Bruins a 1-0 lead midway through the first period with a slap shot from the blue line, but Garry Peters tied it for the Flyers.

Then Hodge got his 30th goal of the year while Flyer Joe Watson was serving a penalty for handling the puck and Stanfield got his 19th while Watson was in the box again for holding Phil Esposito.

In a free wheeling third period, Hodge notched his 31st goal and Don Marcotte knocked in his fifth short-handed goal, the 15th of the year for the Bruins that broke a six-year record held by Chicago.

Rene LeClerc and Frank St. Marcelline scored early goals, then the goalies and defense took over in the Detroit-St. Louis affair.

LeClerc shot the puck in from near Blues' goalie Glenn Hall on a first period power play set up by passes from Garry Unger and Tom Webster. St. Marcelline tied it 30 seconds into the second period.

Third-period goals by Eric Nesterenko, Doug Mohns and Jim Pappin lead Chicago over Pittsburgh. The victory moved the runaway Black Hawks 15 points ahead of St. Louis in the West Division race.

Thursday night.

Tolson broke his own record of 40 points set earlier in the season. The victory upped the Bruins record to 8-0.

be larger.

A tremendous rise of $88 billion from 1970's Gross National Product is implied by Nixon's budget. This would be a 9 per cent increase, a faster rise than even in the inflationary boom years of the late 1960s.

The President affirmed his determination "to take an activist role" in restoring prosperity. The budget will be "expansionary but not inflationary," he promised.

"It adopts the idea of a 'full employment budget,' in which spending does not exceed the revenues the economy could generate under the existing tax system at a time of full employment," he said.

"In this way, the budget is used to promote orderly economic expansion, but the impact of the resulting actual deficit is in sharp contrast to the inflationary pressure created by the deficits of the late 60s, which were the result of excessive spending that went far beyond full employment revenues."

However, even the so-called full employment budget barely will be in balance. Nixon's economists estimated 1972's theoretical revenues would be $229.3 billion if the nation's plants and labor force were working at capacity; at $229.2 billion, Nixon's spending total is a hair's breadth lower.

The message documented a colossal fiscal misfire for the half-gone government year. A year ago Nixon forecast a $1.3 billion surplus. Today he acknowledged an $18.6 billion deficit—a misguess of nearly $20 billion.

These were among the high-light decisions by the President:

Space

A $217 million reduction trimmed the space program to its lowest budget in a decade, $3.151 billion.

Supersonic Transport

Nixon asked $281 million to carry forward development of the bitterly opposed huge SST jet aircraft. This amount would bring two prototype planes close to completion in 1972, for flight-testing in fiscal 1973. "Federal funds will not be required after the flight testing," Nixon assured Congress.

Pollution Abatement

Water pollution control outlays are more than doubled. A $596 million increase will bring outlays of the Environmental Protection Agency to $1.13 billion. Stepped-up efforts to combat air pollution and other problems bring the total spending increase to $764 million.

Nixon unveiled for Congress the proposed basic machinery of his overall $16.1 billion revenue sharing plan. Nixon gave it top-most urgency, he said, because "state and local governments were breaking down under an incredible fiscal burden."

The 610-page message spelled out how the federal aid for dozens of going programs—including such major outlays as model cities, urban renewal, mass transit, school aid for the poor, and sewer and water grants—would be lumped into six block grants for use at the discretion of state and local authorities.

The general sharing program, scheduled to start in October, would provide $5 billion in its full first year. The other $11.1 billion would be apportioned, starting on dates up to next Jan. 1, into these areas of special-purpose grants:

Urban community development, $2 billion; rural community development, $1 billion; education, $3 billion; manpower training, $2 billion; law enforcement, $500 million; transportation, $2.6 billion.

These totals are all for the full first year. But since they will be effective only for part of fiscal 1972 the sharing totals are less for that budget year.

The general sharing would deliver $3.75 billion to states and cities in fiscal 1972, plus enough new funds to provide more than $4 billion in new shared funds.

All the existing categories of aid affected add up to $10.4 billion, or roughly one-third of the present federal grants going to state and local governments.

The budget carries an additional $709 million in increases for these programs.

Other existing programs that would be wrapped into the special block grants are vocational education, manpower training, airport grants, the school lunch program, and the Appalachian Regional commission.

"The hobbling restrictions now on much of the federal aid in these areas would be removed," Nixon said, "along with matching requirements that presently force localities to spend their own matching money on low-priority projects for fear of 'losing' available federal aid."

Obviously some states or cities would simply drop some of the special programs. But administration officials deny the program was designed to wipe out any.

expressions of nature with a marked pureness.

Bruce R. Anderson, well known Little Rock Architect-Artist will also contribute to the exhibit. Mr. Anderson has been the recipient of numerous awards and prizes and has exhibited in New York, South Dakota, Washington, Massachusetts, Texas, Florida, California, and Louisiana. His most recent award was the best over-all show in the 13th Grand Prairie Festival of Arts at Stuttgart, Arkansas in 1969.

The public is invited to visit the Capitol to view these paintings Monday through Friday during the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., February 1-19, 1971.

GM Earnings Loss of $135 Million

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. suffered a loss of $135 million in the fourth quarter of 1970 but ended the year with $609 million in earnings.

The drop was attributed by company officials to the 67-day United Auto Workers strike as well as to a general slowdown in the U.S. and Canadian economies.

According to a preliminary report made public Thursday by GM Chairman James Roche and President Edward N. Cole, 1970 earnings totaled $2.09 per share, down some 65 per cent from earnings in 1969 of $1.7 billion, or $5.95 per share.

The fourth quarter loss, the report showed, followed a loss of $77 million for the third quarter and marked the first time the giant corporation has been in the red two consecutive quarters since 1932.

Oil Talks in Chance for Success

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Serious gaps between the western oil companies and the producer countries of the Persian Gulf were reported today as they continued price negotiations.

"The talks are tough and hard, but a successful outcome is still possible," said the spokesman for the companies, John Collins.

"No one wants to contemplate a breakdown since this would lead to a situation of extreme gravity, both for the consumer countries of Europe and the producers themselves."

"We are still in the early days, and it is going to be hard to negotiate," said Collins. "But both sides are carrying on with the negotiation and one is still optimistic that a successful outcome is still possible. I think both sides want a settlement."

Engineers, Scientists Hard Hit

By NEIL GILBRIDE

AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many of the nation's best-educated workers — engineers, scientists and technicians — are among the hardest hit in the worst unemployment in nearly a decade.

"It's a crisis for professionals," says the AFL-CIO Council for Scientific, Professional, and Cultural Employees (SPACE). "Frayed white collars" is the term used by the Office and Professional Employees International.

President Nixon says it's a temporary job crunch due to switching economic emphasis from a war-based economy to peacetime products, and predicts things will soon begin to get better.

"We'll believe it when we see it," replies A. D. Stewart, who runs a nationwide job agency for high-priced white-collar professionals. "My office is loaded with literally hundreds of resumes of professionals, engineers and electronic experts," said Stewart, whose suburban Maryland office handles job applications for the Washington area and nationwide. He says it's harder to find jobs for such clients than ever before.

The job squeeze among professionals and technicians is part of an over-all unemployment problem among all white-collar workers whose jobless rate has nearly doubled in the past year to 3.7 per cent or 1,213,000 persons. It's highest since the Labor Department began keeping records on white-collar workers 12 years ago.

The current plight of white-collar workers is worse than in the last major recession of 1958, when their jobless rate climbed from 2.5 to 3.6 per cent, or about one million workers. That recession hit blue-collar workers much harder, pushing their jobless rate from 8.3 to 12.1 per cent or a total of about 3.1 million workers.

"Never in the 25 years since World War II have there been so many thousands of engineers, scientists and technicians out of jobs and so many in danger of being unemployed," said the AFL-CIO SPACE Council.

Actually, the unemployment situation for professionals, technicians and white-collar workers generally isn't much worse than that for blue-collar factory and service workers, including skilled craftsmen and foremen. They're just not as used to it.

Total blue-collar unemployment is up about 80 per cent in the past year to 7.7 per cent and a total of 2,282,000 workers, including a more than 100-per cent jump for craftsmen and foremen.

Labor Department officials assign much of the unemployment among engineers and technicians to the slowed federal aerospace program, including spacecraft and military aircraft. Airlines, suffering a business slump, have added to the situation by buying fewer commercial planes.

The effects have rippled all the way back to money-starved research-and-development programs in universities and private companies that have had to lay off many scientific personnel.

In all, the nation's unemployment rate climbed some 75 per cent last year from 3.5 to 6 per cent of the civilian work force and from a total of 2,628,000 workers to 4,636,000, the Labor Department said.

Many federal programs provide at least some help to retrain blue-collar workers, but there are few such chances for professionals and technicians.

The Labor Department has appealed to defense contractors to list scarce job openings with the government's new computerized job banks to match the unemployed with jobs, and has started a national registry to help 30,000 unemployed engineers.

The backed-up job applications from experienced professionals also are crimping career chances of new college graduates seeking their first positions.

"Recruitment activity is at its slowest pace in several decades," said the College Placement Council of Bethlehem, Pa., which surveys industry job hunts on campuses of 140 colleges and universities.

"Numerous employers reported that, although they were conducting campus interviews, they were delaying offers until later in the recruiting year when they hope to have a clearer picture Friday, January 29, 1971 of their needs," the college council said.

Stewart says his Career Guidance Service can find jobs for college graduates in the top 15 per cent of their class, "but if they're down near average, it's tough."

The missing quotient in the American manpower picture, Stewart said, is "to produce people with post-high school education but less than masters' degrees who meet technical and vocational requirements."

"We tend to push people into degree programs of highly theoretical, nonpragmatic subjects and wind up with over-educated people," Stewart said. "They're the first ones to get hurt in this crunch."
